VZUS OPOD

The VZUS opod is a stealthy, data validation vessel with robust living quarters and well-rounded starship amenities. Highly robust scanning radars, antennae, surveillance equipment and packed with explorer drones make this ship a favorite for small deep space explorer crews looking to trade in information with rare and valuable data.

STAR ATLAS

VZUS AMBWE

The VZUS ambwe is specifically crafted for those long journeys on the trail of your next bounty. This small bounty hunting ship has full life support amenities for you and your captures. The ambwe's onboard firepower is enough to make quick work of your cornered target. VZUS branded stealth features reduce overall energy output to fly under the radar and execute that surprise attack.

FIMBUL ECOS GREENADER

Fimbul is a supplier of exotic spacecraft that fits a need no other manufacturer can deliver on. Their ECOS line of ships holds the namesake of the righteous environmental faction known as the Earth Conscious Ontological Society. The Greenader is fueled through sustainable byproducts of biodynamic agricultural harvests.

ARGENTINA CARRIES OUT CRYPTO WALLET SEIZURES LINKED TO TAX DELINQUENTS

SOURCE: COINTELEGRAPH.COM

The background of the entire image is a vibrant, futuristic scene. In the center, a massive, glowing orange and yellow sphere, resembling a sun or a large planet, dominates the sky. Overlaid on this sphere is the Meta logo, which consists of a blue infinity symbol followed by the word "Meta" in white. In the foreground, two people are seen from behind, standing on a dark wooden balcony or rooftop. They are looking out at the large sphere. The balcony has a glass railing and some potted plants. To the left and right of the central sphere, there are smaller, stylized planets. Labels for "EARTH", "Mars", "SATURN GAS GIANT", "NEPTUNE", and "Venus" are visible. The overall atmosphere is one of exploration and digital reality.
